WHAT THEY WILL DO

Speculation in Washington as to the Attitude of the Silver Senators.

WAITING TELLER'S ARRIVAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—There are now quite a number of senators who walked out of the Republican national convention in the city. Senators Cannon, Dubois and Pettigrew are here, and met at the capitol yesterday, but discussed matters only in a general way. There has been some speculation as to whether these former Republican senators would attend future Republican caucuses. One of them was questioned and said there would be time for him to decide when he was invited to a caucus, and called attention to the fact that notices always are served on Republican senators that a caucus is to be held. "The burden of determining our standing in the party rests with those who call the caucus," he said. "If we are asked to participate, we will then decide what to do."

Senator Teller of Colorado and Senator Mantle of Montana have not yet arrived, and it is quite probable there will be no concerted action on the part of the silver men until the arrival of the former. The general impression of the silver senators is that no important legislation can be passed at this session. There is also an impression that the Republicans and the silver men would prefer that nothing be brought to an issue until after the various senatorial elections in the western states when the complexion of the silver and independent forces in the next senate will be more definitely ascertainable.

Senator Pettigrew in an interview said he did not consider the prospects for tariff legislation at the approaching session very good, but added that he was a protectionist and opposed to obstruction. "I should like to see the Republicans given all the protection they want," he said, "in order that the country might discover that it is not the want of protection which is at fault in the present condition of affairs."

Senator Baker of Kansas also thinks the prospect for the passage of the Dingley bill very meager and is strongly opposed to it. He expressed the opinion that the question of an extra session of congress next spring would depend largely on the result of senatorial elections this winter. "If it becomes clear, as the result of these elections, that the Republicans would have a majority of the senate favorable to the passage of a protective bill it would be worth while to call a special session, but otherwise it appears to me that it would be a useless experiment."

Senator Peffer yesterday denied the report telegraphed from Topeka that he had entered into an agreement in regard to the tariff in connection with his campaign for re-election. "The dispatch is wholly untrue," he said.

EAT BREAD WITH ARSENIC IN IT.

Five Hundred Persons Under Charge of Physicians—Believed to be the Work of an Enemy to Ruin the Baker Who Made the Bread—Statement From the Man's Wife.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 5.—What is thought to be an attempt at wholesale poisoning, and in a large measure successful, was reported to the health department yesterday, when information was given of the sudden and serious illness of about 100 families, numbering between 500 and 600 persons, living in the northwestern part of the city. The cause of the sickness was traced to bread sold at a bakery owned by Otto Fieglsthaler, which has a very large trade. Last night an analysis of the bread showed that it contained arsenic. The 600 persons poisoned are living, but a large number of cases are considered serious, if not critical.

GOVERNOR BRADLEY.

He Says He Will Call an Extra Session of the Legislature.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5.—In an interview with Governor W. O. Bradley of Kentucky, who is here for treatment for throat trouble, he said, in answer to a question: "It is my intention to call an extra session of the legislature as soon as circumstances justify it."

When asked if the senatorial contest was one of the circumstances he said: "Some persons say the reason I do not call an extra session is because I am afraid I cannot be elected to the senate. No one has had any authority at any time to use my name in connection with the senatorial contest."

"I will call an extra session for that and other purposes the moment I have the assurance that it will secure needed legislation," he also said he had no favorites whom he was grooming for senator, and that he was not going to Canton from here.

The trades councils here will ask all the different trade bodies throughout the dominion to second their efforts.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The 86th annual report of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, made public yesterday, shows satisfactory progress in nearly all the missions except those of Turkey, where "a carnival of robbery, massacre and outrage has occurred." BRADSTREET.

No Revival of Business Expected This Year—Effect of the Weather.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Bradstreet's today says: General trade continues in moderate volume, jobbers and wholesalers being agreed that there will be no business revival this year. There is some activity in holiday goods. Rains and stormy weather south and cold and severe weather west and northwest, have checked traffic on interior country roads and otherwise interfered with the distribution of merchandise, except at some northwestern centers, where more reasonable weather has stimulated the demand for heavy textiles, clothing, hats and shoes. Throughout the central Mississippi valley there has been no increase in demand in wholesale lines and at the south trade is characterized as dull.

Dr. goods jobbers report that sales for future delivery have fallen off. Transactions in wool have fallen off, manufacturers buying only as they receive orders. SYRUP OF FIGS

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is every where esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

POPULISM is doing Kansas much more harm than did the grasshoppers a few years ago.

The popocratic trio, Altgeld, Tillman, and Bryan, are attracting much less attention than they did three months ago.

ALLEN W. CLARK has issued a call for the free silver executive committee. If the wings of the democratic party want to harmonize they must do it under his popocratic banner.

DAVID B. HILL still insists that he is a democrat. The interesting question is whether he belongs to the old line true blue stock, or to the new style popocratic, get-something-for-nothing wing.

HON. CHAS. W. FAIRBANKS is a man with a national reputation and his election to succeed Senator Voorhees would be commended by his many friends throughout the county. He would at once take rank with the ablest men in the United States senate.

It is reported that ex-parte investigations by the government in pension cases have been abolished by recent action of the pension office, and this is a step of great importance to claimants of all classes and will be of great benefit to veterans.

CONGRESSMAN GROSVENOR, of Ohio, gives it as his opinion that Major McKinley will call an extra session of Congress soon after he is inaugurated. He says the Dingley bill is not such as the business of the country demands at this time, and therefore he does not think it will be seriously considered.

Some counterfeiters are already enjoying the benefits of free coinage. According to the report of the director of the mint the subsidiary coins are being counterfeited by being made of silver and are in fact a little heavier than the genuine coins. So long as the value of the silver bullion in a dollar remains about 55 cents, the temptation to make nearly a hundred per cent profit on their work will prove too strong for some unscrupulous persons.

A GOVERNMENT improvement of which less is said than its importance would warrant is the extension of the free delivery of letters by the post-office authorities in rural districts. Under the provisions of the last post-office appropriation bill this rural delivery system is being tried at several points in twenty-two different states, and the results are reported to be encouraging. Small towns which have thickly settled farming communities around them are selected for the experiment and service is limited to a radius of four miles from the post office. In Indiana the experiment is being tried in Hawcreek township Bartholomew county, and the citizens there are largely in favor of the plan which secures to them a daily mail with the same regularity that is enjoyed by their city cousins.

RECENTLY the REPUBLICAN commented on the suggestion of Mr. Geeting that all manuscripts for teachers' license should be examined by the State Superintendent. The Rockport Journal calls in question the position taken by the REPUBLICAN. It says that such a change would only increase the duties of the state superintendent and "leave the county superintendent with little to do but draw his salary." That is practically saying that the county superintendent is only an "examiner" such as the state had forty years ago. When the law was changed he was made "superintendent" of the schools of the county. If he attends to his duties of superintending he will have quite enough to do to keep him busy. Our schools need supervision and the law contemplates it. There is as much reason for system in the township schools, as in the city schools and the county superintendent should be left in a position to do the work and do it properly. He should look upon himself as being something more than the old style "county examiner."

PROTECTION and reciprocity are two things demanded of the next congress.

It is sorely disappointing to those who want to keep up the free silver agitation that silver bullion is failing in its duty of keeping the price of wheat down to fifty cents a bushel as long as the bullion itself keeps down about that figure.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

At this time of the year a cold is very easily contracted, and if left to run its course without the aid of some reliable cough medicine is liable to result in that dread disease, pneumonia. We know of no better remedy to cure a cough or cold than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it quite extensively and it has always given entire satisfaction. Olney, Ind. Ter. Chief.

This is the only remedy that is known to be a certain preventive of pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it for colds and influenza, we have never yet learned of a single case having resulted in pneumonia. Persons who have weak lungs or have reason to fear an attack of pneumonia, should keep the remedy at hand. The 25 and 50 cent sizes are for sale by C. W. Milhouse, Druggist.

NO INAUGURAL BALL

Governor-Elect Mount Talks About Inauguration Ceremonies.

HUNG HIS WIFE TO A DOORBEAM.

Indiana Young Woman Leaves For Cuba to Find Her Sweetheart—Falls Into a Vat of Hot Water—Result of Bad Investments—Left For Paris Unknown. Brutal Murderer Hanged.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Governor-elect Mount, while in a conversation regarding the coming inaugural, was asked the question if he would lead the inaugural ball. He replied emphatically that there would be no grand march to lead. Continuing, he said: "I rather think I shall have somewhat to say in regard to the ceremonies incident to the gubernatorial inauguration, and it is my purpose to see that the affair is conducted without ostentation or display. There will be no inaugural ball and there will be no parade of men and officers in gay and glittering uniforms. I shall require no military escort, and the attendance of a staff I consider superfluous. I would personally prefer to take the oath of office in the chamber of the house of representatives, and the only entertainment I would favor would be a public reception at the governor's parlors in the evening, and to have it distinctly understood that all good people would be welcomed there, without regard to station, wealth or race. No, there will be no inaugural ball."

BRUTAL MURDERER HANGED.

Brained His Wife With an Ax and Hung His Son With a Halter.

MCLEANSBORO, Ill., Dec. 5.—Fred Behme, who killed his wife and baby boy Easter Sunday last, was hanged late yesterday. His death was almost instantaneous.

The crime for which Behme died was the most heinous ever committed in southern Illinois. After branding his wife with an ax, he took his 8-year-old child to the barn, put a halter around his neck and hanged him to a rafter. The weight of the child being insufficient to strangle it, the murderer pushed down the boy by the shoulders until his tongue protruded and the eyes were forced from their sockets.

SERIOUSLY SCALDED.

John Laker Falls Into a Hot Water Vat at the Veneer Works.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—John Laker, a log Sawyer at the Adams & William-son veneer works, fell into a vat of hot water above his waist and was terribly scalded. The vat is large and is built of cement. The water is heated by steam, and is used to boil logs. How Laker fell in it is a mystery, for he was familiar with its location.

Laker is about 35 years of age and is unmarried. There is a little hope of recovery.

Peculiar Situation.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5.—A peculiar situation has developed in the inquest on the body of Thomas Joy, shot last Monday. The confession of James Welton that he is the murderer is disbelieved by the police. Welton's mother and sister say he was in bed when Joy was shot. There is much other conflicting testimony. Meantime Muldoon, Farrell and Welton are in jail while the search for evidence continues.

Ground to Death in Machinery.

WAVERLY, Ill., Dec. 5.—While working in elevator B of the Waverly Milling company's plant, Charles Brown, aged 24, was caught in the set screw in a shaft collar and was instantly thrown around the shaft. He had both legs broken, the left arm was torn from the socket and his head was cut and torn. He died in a short time.

Whisky Distributors.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5.—The whisky distributors of Cincinnati have determined to call a meeting of the local distributors next week and organize a whisky distributors' association. The object of this association will be to take the entire whisky output of the country if satisfactory arrangements with manufacturers can be made.

Charged With Uxoricide.

PAXTON, Ill., Dec. 5.—Fred Gedde, from near Sibley, lies in jail here charged with the murder of his wife. She was found dead in the house by Michael Voas, a neighbor, during the absence of Gedde from his home. His 5-year-old girl testifies that her father hung her mother by a cord to the door-beam, and that she cut her down.

Result of Bad Investments.

ALTON, Ill., Dec. 5.—Joseph E. Fager, a milk dealer, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver in the forehead. He had made some bad investments, which preyed on his mind, and he told his friends that he would end his life. Fager was 38 years old and unmarried.

Stephen Elliott Dead.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Dec. 5.—Stephen Elliott, 90 years old, died yesterday. He was one of the earliest settlers in this county, having come here in 1820. He helped clear the ground for the business portion of New Castle, and hewed the timber for the first courthouse.

Tobacco Barn Burned.

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 5.—A large tobacco barn, owned by the Hon. J. N. Huston, was consumed by fire yesterday. Loss, $2,000. Goods stored therein, belonging to Colon Peabody of Washington, D. C., were also consumed. Loss, $500.

Cigarette License.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 5.—Next Monday evening the city council will pass an ordinance requiring dealers who handle cigarettes to take out a $500 license. The ordinance will impose a $50 fine for any violation of the law.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sibley Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The remedy cured me, and I want all my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do good." Sold by C. W. Milhouse.

Old papers for putting under carpet on shelves, etc. at this office 20 cents per hundred.

Georgia's Fair Authoress

Tells Why She Uses Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies.

THE NAME of Mrs. J. E. Harwell, (nee Julia Emma Flemming) is a familiar one in the state of Georgia. She writes: "It is with pleasure that I express my gratitude for the wonderful benefits I have received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, especially the Nervine, the Nerve and Liver Pills, New Heart Cure and Anti-Pain Pills. Actual experience has taught me their great worth. No family should be without them. They have fully restored me from a complication of disorders chiefly affecting the heart, nervous system and kidneys. When I travel I always take one of your Anti-Pain Pills before entering the cars and thus prevent swimming of the head and nausea, to which I have been subject for several years." Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants. DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

MICHIGAN ICE GORGE.

Said That People are Fleeing For Their Lives—Farms Overflooded.

MEMORIE, Mich., Dec. 5.—Reports were received last night to the effect that the water is still rising in the Memominee river above the ice gorge, which has formed for 16 miles above the head of Grand Rapids. It is stated that at several farms people are fleeing for their lives. Barns and cellars are overflowed and much fodder and provisions destroyed. The river has overflowed to the Cedar River thus changing its course.

Chippewa Falls.

CHIPPWEA FALLS, Dec. 5.—The water has receded 37 inches and many of the buildings lately under the flood are commencing to reappear. Some are crushed in by the ice. A few business men are moving back, although the majority will remain at their present locations and take no chances. The anchor ice is being carried under the gorge by the swift current of the river. Everybody is feeling not only relieved, but very sanguine over the outlook.

Virginia Blizzard.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 5.—Norfolk is cut off from the outside world by the blizzard of Wednesday night. All the telephone, telegraph, trolley and electric light wires are down in the city and pedestrians have to be very cautious on account of live wires in the streets. No wires are in working order to the coast and no marine news is obtainable. This is the worst layout the telegraph and telephone companies have experienced since 1885. There is not a single wire running out of the city. The damage to property is enormous.

Notable Reception.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Philip H. Sheridan, widow of the illustrious general, was accorded a notable reception at the Hotel Lafayette last night, incidental to the unveiling of John Mulvaney's picture of "Little Phil" making his famous ride.

lead as the coming new U. S. Senator from Indiana. He is a man of decided ability, a worker in the trenches during campaigns, and spends his time and means for the success of the Republican party. He was born in Ohio, in 1852, was taught in the district schools, did some newspaper work, afterward graduated in the Ohio Wesleyan University, studied and practiced law, removing to Indianapolis in 1874, entered upon an active and lucrative practice.—Rising

'Perry Gorrick.'
During the campaign a number of timely communications appeared in the Indianapolis News from Carthage, Ind., and signed by "Perry Gorrick." In these communications he referred frequently to Seymour people which showed that he had an extended acquaintance here.
In a special from Carthage to the Indianapolis News yesterday the identity of "Perry Gorrick" is revealed. Lewis
M. Boland, a tinner by trade, is his real name. For many years he lived in this city and worked at his trade. While here he contributed many spicy articles to the local papers. He is the author of the local romance—"For Better, for Worse"—based on the exploits of the
Reno gang.
Mr. Boland went from Seymour to Vincennes where he worked on the Commercial for awhile and later on
was connected with other papers.
For some time he has been residing in Carthage, giving most of his time to his trade.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

FLOOD RECEDING.

Chippewa River Falling at the Rate of One Foot Per Day.
CHIPPWEA FALLS, Wis., Dec. 4.—The water was just about 25 feet all yesterday afternoon, but since it is falling less fear is felt in regard to changes in the stage of water here. It snowed last night, the ground being covered, but the cold weather continues with little change.

"The river is falling at the rate of a foot per day and there is no reason whatever for apprehension," said Colonel W. A. Jones, U. S. A., to a press representative, after he had put in a busy day yesterday investigating the situation along the Chippewa river. Colonel Jones, who is in charge of the government engineering works in the northwest, had been called here by the local authorities, who sought expert advice in what seemed like an extremely and a critical situation. He continued: "The condition of the river at Eau Claire and at Chippewa Falls is practically the same and the stage of water at Eau Claire is really the stage of the river, as the flood here is simply caused by the backwater. Most of the water is able to get away under the ice and the backwater represents the amount of water that is unable to get away."

President Says German Vessels Entering Our Ports Must Pay Tonnage.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The president has issued a proclamation suspending, after January next, the operations of the act which relieves German vessels entering United States ports from the payment of tonnage dues and other shipping charges. The effect of the president's proclamation is to reimpose upon the vessels entering from Germany the same tonnage dues that are imposed on vessels flying the United States flag from Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain and other maritime nations in Europe and Asia. German vessels were exempted in 1888 from the payment of these dues under the shipping reciprocity act of 1886.

Martinielli Instructed to Deny Reports Sent Out by Correspondents.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Monseigneur Martinielli has received the following telegram from Rome: ROME, Dec. 4. Monseigneur Martinielli, Delegate Apostolic, Washington. The holy father has learned with great sorrow of the agitation created in the United States by pretended correspondents and telegrams from Rome announcing measures soon to be taken against eminent American prelates and distinguished professors of the Catholic University. Your excellency will authoritatively deny all such falsehoods, which are the product of reprehensible manœuvres.

M. CARDINAL RAMPOLLI.

Half Witted, but Level Headed.

No one near Crab Orchard, Ky., knew how old or how young Zeke Morse was 80 years ago. Old men claimed that he looked just the same and acted just the same when they were boys. Some old men have lied, even in Kentucky, but it would not be prudent to say so in their hearing down there.

Zeke Morse was half witted, and unlike most men in that fix he confessed it, which probably should be taken as an argument against the charge. One day old Dr. Breckinridge of Center college, Danville, and father of a well known congressman, overtook Zeke Morse, and rising in his cab said: "Zeke, why do you want to live?" "I ain't nevah sed I keerd much to live," replied Zeke, pushing back his patch of a felt hat and looking into the doctor's small, gray eyes. "Zeke," said the doctor, "as you don't care about living, I'll give you $1,000 if you'll let me kill you." "See here, doc," said Zeke as he scratched his mop of red hair, "don't folks say I'm half witted?" "I believe they do, Zeke." "Well sah, undah them circumstances I'll let you half kill me fo' half the money."—New York World.

The Brooklynite and the Swordfish.

"Step up and see the great sawed fish. It'll cost you but one dime," is printed in glaring type over a drop scene on which is a crude picture of a swordfish.

This invitation hangs in front of a small tent which is pitched on a vacant lot in Brooklyn. The other day a trolley dodging perambulator pushed stopped and read the notice. He called the showman's attention to the way in which swordfish was spelled.

"Now," said the showman, "you just pay your 10 cents before you find fault, and if the name ain't spelled right I'll give you a dollar."

The trolley did as requested and gazed upon a codfish which had been sawed in halves.

Lincoln's Last Law Case.

"Speaking of Lincoln's birthday," said Senator Palmer, "reminds me that the very last case Lincoln ever tried was one in which I, too, was engaged. It was in Springfield, in June, 1860, after Mr. Lincoln had received the presidential nomination. Old David Baker, who had been a senator in the early days, had sued the trustees of Shortleft college, my alma mater, for expelling his grandson, a lad named Will Gilbert. Mr. Lincoln appeared for the prosecution. I was the college attorney. Mr. Lincoln came into court, and the judge said to him: 'Mr. Lincoln, I'll argue this case for you. You have too much on your hands already. You haven't any case.' And he explained the law and application."

"Well," said Mr. Lincoln, with a smile, "don't you want to hear a speech from me?"

"No," said the judge, and the last case Mr. Lincoln tried he—well, he didn't try it at all."—Washington Post.

Twenty Years....

For more than twenty years we have been telling how Scott's Emulsion overcomes the excessive waste of the system, puts on flesh, nourishes and builds up the body, making it the remedy for all wasting diseases of adults and children, but it isn't possible for us to tell the story in a mere stickful of newspaper type.

We have had prepared for us by a physician a little book, telling in easy words how and why Scott's Emulsion benefits, and a postal card request will be enough to have it sent to you free. To-day would be a good time to send for it.

SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

NOT A DIRECTORY.

Why the Hardworking Letter Carrier Loses His Temper Occasionally.

I stopped a letter carrier in Thirty-sixth street the other morning and inquired the number of the house on the other side of the street at which a personal friend of mine lived, giving the name and occupation of the gentleman about whom the inquiry was made. I knew he lived across the way, in one of a certain block, but had forgotten the particular number, and I knew the carrier would know by the mail delivered. "Don't you know, sir," said the carrier, who knew me, by the way, "that you ask for that which it is contrary to the rules of the postoffice department to give?" "No, I don't," I blushingly admitted. "Well, it's true," he said. "The law recognizes the right of a citizen to a private residence, undisturbed, as long as he has committed no offense that requires such privacy to be invaded. Now if I should give your number and street to anybody who might happen to want them, the thing might cause you some annoyance."

"Why, anybody could find that out through the directory."

"They might, and they might not. Anyhow the postoffice is not a directory."

"And didn't you know," he added as a parting shot as he went away, "that you violate the law by stopping a postman in this way while he is delivering his mail?"

No, I didn't, and for that reason these paragraphs.—New York Herald.

The People of Dads.

Fierce as they are in war, the people of Dads are when at peace the gentlest of creatures, extremely devoted to their children and living a home life absolutely unknown among the Arabs. Just as in appearance so in moral character do they excel, and the vices so common among the Moors are unknown in the homes of the Berbers. They seem to possess none of that uncontrollable passion that is so large a feature in the Arab character, and its place is taken by affection and sincerity. Seldom marrying more than one wife, prostitution is absolutely unknown, with the result that the health of the tribe is excellent, and one never sees those horrid disfigurements of feature so common in other portions of Morocco. No doubt to a great extent the moral character of the Berbers is due to the fact that their women are allowed entire liberty, do not veil their faces and mix on almost all occasions with the men.

One of the first things that struck me on my arrival at Dads was the good humored and innocent chaff that passed between the men and the girls of the tribe, even in the streets of the ksar, and still more when they brought us our food to the minzah on the housetop. The women are distinctly pretty, with very fair skins and clear complexions; but they detract much from their appearance by the strange manner in which they adorn their features with henna and kohl, the former a red dye and the latter antimony.—"Taffet," by W. B. Harris.

Something Wrong.

Either hydraulic engineering is not so exact a science as laymen have been led to believe or else an unusual blunder has been discovered in New Jersey. Newark some time ago contracted with the East Jersey Water company for a new supply of portable water from the Pequannock valley. According to the terms, 60,000,000 gallons were to be delivered daily and the price was $6,000,000. Knowing exactly the gradient and the distance from the impounding reservoirs to the city, the engineers laid a 48 inch pipe of steel, which they calculated would convey nearly 60,000,000 gallons of water daily. Now the pipe line has been tested and its capacity has been found to be not more than 34,000,000 gallons. Fortunately Newark was protected by the contract for loss occasioned by the error, but the water company has just been compelled to begin the construction of an auxiliary main, which will cost more than $1,000,000.

Honest and Modest.

Thirty years ago the late Major Thomas J. Barry of this city in paying a bill gave out $20 too much, the bill of that denomination sticking to the back of another. The receiver noticed the mistake some time later and made a memorandum of the fact, intending to pay it. The memorandum was lost and the incident passed out of his mind. A few days ago in running through a desk he found it. He lost no time in seeking out the widow of Major Barry, and after explaining the incident induced her to accept not only the $20, but the accrued interest, compounded at 7 per cent, making the total $152.24. With all this honesty, this man is too modest to allow his name to be made public.—Detroit Free Press.

THEY'RE ALL LIKE THAT.

Oh, have you ever known a girl, when asked about her age, Who'd sweetly smile and answer you and not get in a rage? The weather, styles and last new plays are topics safe for you. But if you venture on her age she'll snap those eyes of blue (Or if they're black 'twill be worse yet) and curl her lips in scorn. Then you will feel of all men you are the most forlorn. Now, ten to one, if you could see within that maiden's breast, She'll be consigning you somewhere, but not among the best. The girls are all alike in that the whole wide world around— You must not ask how old they are—at least so I have found. I tried it once, and to my cost. Now I'm a wiser man, And to you fellows I must say this—avoid it if you can. —Richard Brent in Atlanta Constitution.

A NEW YORK STREET SHOW.

The Interesting Performance of an Equine Gymnast.

It is the easiest thing in the world for a horse to eat from the ground standing—that is the way it feeds in nature—but a horse that was standing in Nassau street the other day, attached to a delivery wagon, ate from the ground in a way that interested everybody who saw him.

Straightening out his fore legs in front of him, at an angle of about 45 degrees, something as a dog straightens out his fore legs in stretching, he lowered his body at the shoulders to about half its usual elevation above the ground. Then he inclined his head downward between his legs until his lips touched the pavement. He didn't need to bend his neck more than half as much as would have been necessary if he had remained standing with his fore legs upright. It was like a feat in gymnastics.

A crescent shaped crowd gathered in front of the horse, one horn of the crescent being on one sidewalk and the other on the other. Somebody put a pear down on the pavement between the horse's feet. Out went his feet and down he lowered his body and then deliberately he inclined his head and picked up the pear; and then he straightened up and ate it, all to the great enjoyment of the crowd. One man said Baraum ought to have him, and yet when he straightened up and was standing at rest he was just a good looking horse whom nobody would ever have taken for the prize horse gymnast.

A boy laid down the core of an apple and the horse picked that up as before while the crowd looked on, and presently the driver came out of a building and jumped on the seat of the wagon. He saw the crowd, but he didn't let on that he saw it or anything remarkable at all; he simply gathered up the lines and drove off, and then the crowd melted away.—New York Sun.

London Cabbies' Trick.

"Like a ride, sir? Jump up. Nothing to pay."

The writer was taking a stroll along the Thames embankment one fine evening after supper when the driver of a smart looking four wheeler pulled across the road and hailed him thus curiously.

I jumped on the box beside him, and, noticing my look of inquiry, he explained: "You see, sir, we cabbies are not allowed to drive empty through the Strand during this half hour just as the theater goers are coming out. Of course there is a dead certainty of getting a fare now if we can only manage to get into the street. So to prevent the place getting filled with cabs there is a policeman at every side turning with strict orders to turn us back as soon as there are enough on the bank."

"But no bobby in the world can stop a man driving a fare into the Strand, and so we ask a likely looking customer to oblige us and jump in while we drive past the constable. Once in the street, we are pretty sure of picking up a fare before we are noticed and ordered out again."

"Thank you, sir, very much," he added as I alighted a few doors from the Villiers street end of the crowded thoroughfare, "and good night! Cab, sir? Yes, sir," and he quickly drove off with his new fare.—Pearson's Weekly.

Nashy American.

Among my fellow passengers recently on one of these good but very slow ships, the Irrawaddie, was a little curly haired English boy who had evidently been brought up in the strictest sect of the aristocracy—an embryonic Englishman of the Englishmen.

"Do you speak French, little boy?" said a good lady to him, who was trying to scrape acquaintance with the youthful Briton.

"Oh, naow," said the little chap. "Do you speak American?" then asked the lady.

"Oh, naow," he replied, with a still stronger emphasis.

"But wouldn't you like to learn American?" persisted the lady.

"Oh, naow, thanks," answered this sturdy little patriot. "It is very, very nashy to speak American."—North American Review.

Tennyson's Prediction.

It has been learned that Tennyson predicted the day of his death. Just a year before his death friends of the poet were visiting Aldworth House. The late Lord Selborne turned to Tennyson and remarked: "You ought to be happy here." "Ah," sighed the poet, "I have only a year to live!" His hearers laughed at the remark, but it was a prophetic assertion that was verified to the minute.

Affability, mildness, tenderness and a word which I would fain bring back to its original significance of virtue—I mean good nature—are of daily use. They are the bread of mankind and the staff of life.—Dryden.

The Metonic cycle of 19 years, at the end of which each new moon comes back into the same day of the year, was among the most remarkable discoveries of ancient astronomy.

WHAT THEY WILL DO

Speculation In Washington as to the Attitude of the Silver Senators.

WAITING TELLER'S ARRIVAL.

Will Wait Until They are Invited to Attend Republican Caucus Before Taking Decisive Action—Interviews With Pettigrew and Baker on Tariff Legislation. Senator Peffer Denies a Report.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—There are now quite a number of senators who walked out of the Republican national convention in the city. Senators Cannon, Dubois and Pettigrew are here, and met at the capitol yesterday, but discussed matters only in a general way. There has been some speculation as to whether these former Republican senators would attend future Republican caucuses. One of them was questioned and said there would be time for him to decide when he was invited to a caucus, and called attention to the fact that notices always are served on Republican senators that a caucus is to be held. "The burden of determining our standing in the party rests with those who call the caucus," he said. "If we are asked to participate, we will then decide what to do."

Senator Teller of Colorado and Senator Mantle of Montana have not yet arrived, and it is quite probable there will be no concerted action on the part of the silver men until the arrival of the former. The general impression of the silver senators is that no important legislation can be passed at this session. There is also an impression that the Republicans and the silver men would prefer that nothing be brought to an issue until after the various senatorial elections in the western states when the complexion of the silver and independent forces in the next session will be more definitely ascertainable.

Senator Pettigrew in an interview said he did not consider the prospects for tariff legislation at the approaching session very good, but added that he was a protectionist and opposed to obstruction. "I should like to see the Republicans given all the protection they want," he said, "in order that the country might discover that it is not the want of protection which is at fault in the present condition of affairs."

Senator Baker of Kansas, also thinks the prospect for the passage of the Dingley bill very meager and is strongly opposed to it. He expressed the opinion that the question of an extra session of congress next spring would depend largely on the result of senatorial elections this winter. "If it becomes clear as the result of these elections, that the Republicans would have a majority of the senate favorable to the passage of a protective bill it would be worth while to call a special session, but otherwise it appears to me that it would be a useless experiment."

Senator Peffer yesterday denied the report telegraphed from Topeka that he had entered into an agreement in regard to the tariff in connection with his campaign for re-election. "The dispatch is wholly untrue," he said.

Congressman Grosvenor of Ohio. NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Congressman O. S. Grosvenor of Ohio is in the city. In an interview he said: "I do not think Mr. Hanna or any other Ohioan will be in the cabinet."

"Do you think the Dingley tariff bill can pass?" the reporter asked.

"I do not think we will have any tariff legislation this session," replied Senator Peffer. "I am opposed to the Dingley bill, because it follows in the line of the old, moldy, pernicious and inadequate system of ad valorem duties."

Miss Anna Coleman Leaves For Cuba to Join Maceo's Army.

NORFOLK, Ind., Dec. 5.—Miss Anna E. Coleman yesterday started for Key West, Fla., where she hopes to find passage to Cuba. William R. Miss Coleman hopes to take service with the Cuban army as a nurse, and of being attached to the same command under whose standard Needham is fighting. When Cuban independence is declared, the couple will return to the United States.

Town Wiped Out.

TOMPKINSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 5.—The town of Flippen, 12 miles west of here, was almost wiped out by fire at a late

So far as can be learned at the state department, the nature of the information which Senator Andrade will bring has not been anticipated by advices to the department.

GOVERNOR BRADLEY.

He Says He Will Call an Extra Session of the Legislature.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5.—In an interview with Governor W. O. Bradley of Kentucky, who is here for treatment for throat trouble, he said, in answer to a question: "It is my intention to call an extra session of the legislature as soon as circumstances justify it."

When asked if the senatorial contest was one of the circumstances he said: "Some persons say the reason I do not call an extra session is because I am afraid I cannot be elected to the senate. No one has had any authority at any time to use my name in connection with the senatorial contest."

"I will call an extra session for that and other purposes the moment I have the assurance that it will secure needed legislation." He also said he had no favorites whom he was grooming for senator, and that he was not going to Canton from here.

SECRETARY FRANCIS' REPORT.

Affairs of the Various Branches of the Interior Department Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The annual report of Secretary of the Interior Francis was made public yesterday. It deals with all the affairs of the various branches of the interior department during the past year and makes a number of important recommendations. It proposes a solution of the vexed problem of the bond aided roads, deals exhaustively with the pension administration, reviews the progress of the Dawes' commission negotiations and touches upon various matters of especial significance in the west. The report opens with a discussion of the public domain. It shows that the total number of acres disposed of up to June 30 last was 946,000,000 leaving public domain still vacant estimated at over 600,000,000, not including the district of Alaska with an area of over 369,000,000 acres.

SILVER ADVOCATES.

Call for a Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Bimetallic League.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Yesterday a number of silver advocates from over the state, among them State Democratic Chairman Martin and Allen W. Clark met in this city and talked over the silver outlook. The result of the conference was the issuing of a call for a meeting of the executive committee of the bimetallic league for next Tuesday and a conference with leaders of the silver movement.

A renewal of the silver campaign has been decided upon and it is thought the executive committee will map out a plan that will be effective in organizing all silver people in a compact organization so that they will be able to show a solid front to the goldites. Silver educational matter, it is said, will be used without stint, and a vigorous fight will be put up from now on.

The trades councils here will ask all the different trade bodies throughout the dominion to second their efforts.

Foreign Missions.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The 86th annual report of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, made public yesterday, shows satisfactory progress in nearly all the missions except those of Turkey, where "a carnival of robbery, massacre and outrage has occurred." POISONER AT WORK

One Hundred Families In Milwaukee In A Serious Condition.

EAT BREAD WITH ARSENIC IN IT.

Five Hundred Persons Under Charge of Physicians—Believed to be the Work of an Enemy to Ruin the Baker Who Made the Bread—Statement From the Man's Wife.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 5.—What is thought to be an attempt at wholesale poisoning, and in a large measure successful, was reported to the health department yesterday, when information was given of the sudden and serious illness of about 100 families, numbering between 500 and 600 persons, living in the northwestern part of the city. The cause of the sickness was traced to bread sold at a bakery owned by Otto Figelsthaler, which has a very large trade. Last night an analysis of the bread showed that it contained arsenic. The 600 persons poisoned are living, but a large number of cases are considered serious, if not critical.

The first intimation that the health department had of the poisoning was the notification by Dr. F. R. Weber that a family named Herzberg had been taken ill and that the symptoms were those of poisoning.

From early morning until late at night the telephone bell in the office of the commissioner of health was kept ringing and at the close of office hours more than 100 families had been reported as suffering from symptoms of acute poisoning.

The health department officials said that it was evidently a case of arsenical poisoning. The symptoms are excessive vomiting accompanied by pains in the stomach, and severe headaches and chills. Dr. Kempster stated that he had been notified of the condition of affairs and had ordered a complete investigation.

Mrs. Figelsthaler, the wife of the baker, said today that she thought that some one had deliberately put poison in to the box containing the flour from which the bread was made. It has been the custom of the baker to keep the flour in the cellar, from which there are two flights of stairs that lead directly to the garret. It is claimed by the lady who lives above the bakery that she heard some one moving about in the garret, early in the night before the bread was made, but as she thought that it was some one of the Figelsthaler family, she said nothing about it until she found out in the morning that none of the members of the family had been near the garret during the night.

The police are convinced from the investigation that arsenic was placed in the bread intent to cause the death or serious illness of Figelsthaler's customers, with the object of ruining his business.

FORGER MONKS.

Swindled Every One, Friend and Foe Alike—His Brother Implicated.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Chief of Police Murphy of Bay City, Mich., has arrived here to take the young forger, Richard Grant Monks, back to Michigan. Chief Murphy says Monks and his brother William, aged 16, are both "degenerates." William has been arrested in Chicago on a charge of being implicated with Richard in forgeries in Bay City and elsewhere. "Richard Monks," said Chief Murphy, "swindled every one, friend and foe alike. Among his victims was F. E. Bradley of Bay City, who had been his bondsman when the young man was arrested charged with murdering his father."

NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

Dr. Powell Says It Immunizes the System Against All Disease Germs.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 5.—Dr. Thomas Powell of this place, claims to have made a discovery which will be of the greatest value to the medical profession. He says he can immunize the human system against all disease germs, such as consumption, diphtheria and scarlet by many doctors. Women are often treated specially for sick headaches, dyspepsia, melancholy, or what is supposed to be a liver or kidney affection or heart-disease, when in reality the whole trouble is with the reproductive organs. This delicate and intricate organism and the rational treatment for its peculiar ailments is a life study for the wisest physician. Probably no practitioner living has a higher reputation in this special direction than Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His "Favorite Prescription" is the most perfect remedy ever known for all "female complaints." It gets at the source of the trouble from the inside: It is not merely temporary, external, local, bolstering up or palliative. It directly tones and strengthens the internal organs, and restores them to health and regularity, and completely banishes the continual weakness, drag and drain which wear out body and mind. Its sale exceeds the combined sales of all other medicines for women.

In every American household, there should be a copy of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Advice," 100 pages, illustrated. One copy free to any address on receipt of 21 cents.

'Perry Gorrick'

During the campaign a number of
timely communications appeared in the

In a special from Carthage to the In-

of "Perry Gorrick" is revealed. Louis

name. For many years he lived in this city and worked at his trade. While here he contributed many spicy articles
to the local papers. He is the author of the local romance—"For Better, for Worse"—based on the exploits of the
Reno gang.

Mr. Boland went from Seymour to Vincennes where he worked on the Commercial for awhile and later on
was connected with other papers.

For some time he has been residing in Carthage, giving most of his time to his trade.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean. The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

FLOOD RECEDING.

Chippewa River Falling at the Rate of One Foot Per Day.

CHIPPWEA FALLS, Wis., Dec. 4.—The water was just about 25 feet all yesterday afternoon, but since it is falling less fear is felt in regard to changes in the stage of water here. It snowed last night, the ground being covered, but the cold weather continues with little change.

"The river is falling at the rate of a foot per day and there is no reason whatever for apprehension," said Colonel W. A. Jones, U. S. A., to a press representative, after he had put in a busy day yesterday investigating the situation along the Chippewa river. Colonel Jones, who is in charge of the government engineering works in the northwest, had been called here by the local authorities, who sought expert advice in what seemed like an extremely and a critical situation. He continued: "The condition of the river at Eau Claire and at Chippewa Falls is practically the same and the stage of water at Eau Claire is really the stage of the river, as the flood here is simply caused by the backwater. Most of the water is able to get away under the ice and the backwater represents the amount of water that is unable to get away."

President Says German Vessels Entering Our Ports Must Pay Tonnage.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The president has issued a proclamation suspending, after January next, the operations of the act which relieves German vessels entering United States ports from the payment of tonnage dues and other shipping charges. The effect of the president's proclamation is to reimpose upon the vessels entering from Germany the same tonnage dues that are imposed on vessels flying the United States flag from Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain and other maritime nations in Europe and Asia. German vessels were exempted in 1888 from the payment of these dues under the shipping reciprocity act of 1888.

Martelli Instructed to Deny Reports Sent Out by Correspondents.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Monseigneur Martelli has received the following telegram from Rome:

ROME, Dec. 4. Monseigneur Martelli, Delegate Apostolic, Washington. The holy father has learned with great sorrow of the agitation created in the United States by pretended correspondents and telegrams from Rome announcing measures soon to be taken against eminent American prelates and distinguished professors of the Catholic University. Your excellency will authoritatively deny all such falsehoods, which are the product of reprehensible manœuvres.

M. CARDINAL RAMPOL.

Half Witted, but Level Headed.

No one near Crab Orchard, Ky., knew how old or how young Zeke Morse was 80 years ago. Old men claimed that he looked just the same and acted just the same when they were boys. Some old men have lived, even in Kentucky, but it would not be prudent to say so in their hearing down there.

Zeke Morse was half witted, and unlike most men in that fix he confessed it, which probably should be taken as an argument against the charge. One day old Dr. Breckinridge of Center college, Danville, and father of a well known ex-congressman, overtook Zeke Morse, and rising in his cab said:

"Zeke, why do you want to live?" "I hain't nevah sed I keerd much to live," replied Zeke, pushing back his patch of a felt hat and looking into the doctor's small, gray eyes.

"Zeke," said the doctor, "as you don't care about living, I'll give you $1,000 if you'll let me kill you."

"See here, doc," said Zeke as he scratched his mop of red hair, "don't folks say I'm half witted?"

"I believe they do, Zeke."

"Well sah, ondat them sarcumstances I'll let you kill me if you'll half the money."—New York World.

The Brooklynite and the Swordfish.

"Step up and see the great swordfish. It'll cost you but one dime," is printed in glaring type over a drop scene on which is a crude picture of a swordfish.

This invitation hangs in front of a small tent which is pitched on a vacant lot in Brooklyn.

The other day a trolley dodging perambulator pushed stopped and read the notice. He called the showman's attention to the way in which swordfish was spelled.

"Now," said the showman, "you just pay your 10 cents before you find fault, and if the name ain't spelled right I'll give you a dollar."

The trolley did as requested and gazed upon a codfish which had been sawed in halves.

Lincoln's Last Law Case.

"Speaking of Lincoln's birthday," said Senator Palmer, "reminds me that the very last case Lincoln ever tried was one in which I, too, was engaged. It was in Springfield, in June, 1860, after Mr. Lincoln had received the presidential nomination. Old David Baker, who had been a senator in the early days, had sued the trustees of Shurtleff college, my alma mater, for expelling his grandson, a lad named Will Gilbert. Mr. Lincoln appeared for the prosecution. I was the college attorney. Mr. Lincoln came into court, and the judge said to him: 'Mr. Lincoln, I'll argue this case for you. You have too much on your hands already. You haven't any case.' And he explained the law and application."

"Well," said Mr. Lincoln, with a smile, "don't you want to hear a speech from me?"

"No," said the judge, and the last case Mr. Lincoln tried he—well, he didn't try it at all."—Washington Post.

Twenty Years....

For more than twenty years we have been telling how Scott's Emulsion overcomes the excessive waste of the system, puts on flesh, nourishes and builds up the body, making it the remedy for all wasting diseases of adults and children, but it isn't possible for us to tell the story in a mere stickful of newspaper type.

We have had prepared for us by a physician a little book, telling in easy words how and why Scott's Emulsion benefits, and a postal card request will be enough to have it sent to you free. To-day would be a good time to send for it.

NOT A DIRECTORY.

Why the Hardworking Letter Carrier Loses His Temper Occasionally.

I stopped a letter carrier in Thirty-sixth street the other morning and inquired the number of the house on the other side of the street at which a personal friend of mine lived, giving the name and occupation of the gentleman about whom the inquiry was made. I knew he lived across the way, in one of a certain block, but had forgotten the particular number, and I knew the carrier would know by the mail delivered.

"Don't you know, sir," said the carrier, who knew me, by the way, "that you ask for that which it is contrary to the rules of the postoffice department to give?"

"No, I don't," I blushingly admitted.

"Well, it's true," he said. "The law recognizes the right of a citizen to a private residence, undisturbed, as long as he has committed no offense that requires such privacy to be invaded. Now if I should give your number and street to anybody who might happen to want them, the thing might cause you some annoyance."

"Why, anybody could find that out through the directory."

"They might, and they might not. Anyhow the postoffice is not a directory."

"And didn't you know," he added as a parting shot as he went away, "that you violate the law by stopping a postman in this way while he is delivering his mail?"

No, I didn't, and for that reason these paragraphs.—New York Herald.

The People of Dads.

Fierce as they are in war, the people of Dads are when at peace the gentlest of creatures, extremely devoted to their children and living a home life absolutely unknown among the Arabs. Just as in appearance so in moral character do they excel, and the vices so common among the Moors are unknown in the homes of the Berbers. They seem to possess none of that uncontrollable passion that is so large a feature in the Arab character, and its place is taken by affection and sincerity. Seldom marrying more than one wife, prostitution is absolutely unknown, with the result that the health of the tribe is excellent, and one never sees those horrid disfigurements of feature so common in other portions of Morocco. No doubt to a great extent the moral character of the Berbers is due to the fact that their women are allowed entire liberty, do not veil their faces and mix on almost all occasions with the men.

One of the first things that struck me on my arrival at Dads was the good humored and innocent chaff that passed between the men and the girls of the tribe, even in the streets of the ksar, and still more when they brought us our food to the minzah on the housetop. The women are distinctly pretty, with very fair skins and clear complexions; but they detract much from their appearance by the strange manner in which they adorn their features with henna and kohl, the former a red dye and the latter antimony.—"Tafflet," by W. B. Harris.

Something Wrong.

Either hydraulic engineering is not so exact a science as laymen have been led to believe or else an unusual blunder has been discovered in New Jersey. Newark some time ago contracted with the East Jersey Water company for a new supply of portable water from the Pequannock valley. According to the terms, 50,000,000 gallons were to be delivered daily and the price was $6,000,000. Knowing exactly the gradient and the distance from the impounding reservoir to the city, the engineers laid a 48 inch pipe of steel, which they calculated would convey nearly 60,000,000 gallons of water daily. Now the pipe line has been tested and its capacity has been found to be not more than $4,000,000 gallons. Fortunately Newark was protected by the contract for loss occasioned by the error, but the water company has just been compelled to begin the construction of an auxiliary main, which will cost more than $1,000,000.

Honest and Modest.

Thirty years ago the late Major Thomas J. Barry of this city in paying a bill gave out $20 too much, the bill of that denomination sticking to the back of another. The receiver noticed the mistake some time later and made a memorandum of the fact, intending to pay it. The memorandum was lost and the incident passed out of his mind. A few days ago in running through a desk he found it. He lost no time in seeking out the widow of Major Barry, and after explaining the incident induced her to accept not only the $20, but the accrued interest, compounded at 7 per cent, making the total $152.24. With all this honesty, this man is too modest to allow his name to be made public.—Detroit Free Press.

THEY'RE ALL LIKE THAT.

Oh, have you ever known a girl, when asked about her age, who'd sweetly smile and answer you and not get in a rage? The weather, styles and last new plays are topics safe for you. But if you venture on her age she'll snap those eyes of blue (Or if they're black 'twill be worse yet) and curl her lips in scorn. Then you will feel of all men you are the most scorned.

Now, ten to one, if you could see within that maiden's breast, she'll be consigning you somewhere, but not among the blues. The girls are all alike in that the whole wide world around—You must not ask how old they are—at least so I have found.

I tried it once, and to my cost. Now I'm a wiser man, And to you fellows I must say this—avoid it if you can.

A NEW YORK STREET SHOW.

The Interesting Performance of an Equine Gymnast.

It is the easiest thing in the world for a horse to eat from the ground standing—that is the way it feeds in nature—but a horse that was standing in Nassau street the other day, attached to a delivery wagon, ate from the ground in a way that interested everybody who saw him.

Straightening out his fore legs in front of him, at an angle of about 45 degrees, something as a dog straightens out his fore legs in stretching, he lowered his body at the shoulders to about half its usual elevation above the ground. Then he inclined his head downward between his legs until his lips touched the pavement. He didn't need to bend his neck more than half as much as would have been necessary if he had remained standing with his fore legs upright. It was like a feat in gymnastics.

A crescent shaped crowd gathered in front of the horse, one horn of the crescent being on one sidewalk and the other on the other. Somebody put a pear down on the pavement between the horse's feet. Out went his feet and down he lowered his body and then deliberately he inclined his head and picked up the pear; and then he straightened up and ate it, all to the great enjoyment of the crowd. One man said Bar num ought to have him, and yet when he straightened up and was standing at rest he was just a good looking horse whom nobody would ever have taken for the prize horse gymnast.

A boy laid down the core of an apple and the horse picked that up as before while the crowd looked on, and presently the driver came out of a building and jumped on the seat of the wagon. He saw the crowd, but he didn't let on that he saw it or anything remarkable at all; he simply gathered up the lines and drove off, and then the crowd melted away.—New York Sun.

London Cabbies' Trick.

"Like a ride, sir? Jump up. Nothing to pay."

The writer was taking a stroll along the Thames embankment one fine evening after supper when the driver of a smart looking four wheeler pulled across the road and hailed him thus curiously. I jumped on the box beside him, and, noticing my look of inquiry, he explained: "You see, sir, we cabbies are not allowed to drive empty through the Strand during this half hour just as the theater goers are coming out. Of course there is a dead certainty of getting a fare now if we can only manage to get into the street. So to prevent the place getting filled with cabs there is a policeman at every side turning with strict orders to turn us back as soon as there are enough on the bank."

"But no bobby in the world can stop a man driving a fare into the Strand, and so we ask a likely looking customer to oblige us and jump in while we drive past the constable. Once in the street, we are pretty sure of picking up a fare before we are noticed and ordered out again."

"Thank you, sir, very much," he added as I alighted a few doors from the Villiers street end of the crowded thoroughfare, "and good night! Cab, sir? Yes, sir," and he quickly drove off with his new fare.—Pearson's Weekly.

Nasty American.

Among my fellow passengers recently on one of these good but very slow ships, the Irrawaddy, was a little curly haired English boy who had evidently been brought up in the strictest sect of the aristocracy—an embryonic Englishman of the Englishmen.

"Do you speak French, little boy?" said a good lady to him, who was trying to scrape acquaintance with the youthful Briton.

"Oh, naow," said the little chap "Do you speak American?" Then asked the lady.

"Oh, naow," he replied, with a still stronger emphasis.

"But wouldn't you like to learn American?" persisted the lady.

"Oh, naow, thanks," answered this sturdy little patriot. "It is very, very nasty to speak American."—North American Review.

Tennyson's Prediction.

It has been learned that Tennyson predicted the day of his death. Just a year before his death friends of the poet were visiting Aldworth House. The late Lord Selborne turned to Tennyson and remarked, "You ought to be happy here." "Ah," sighed the poet, "I have only a year to live!" His hearers laughed at the remark, but it was a prophetic assertion that was verified to the minute.

Affability, mildness, tenderness and a word which I would fain bring back to its original significance of virtue—I mean good nature—are of daily use. They are the bread of mankind and the staff of life.—Dryden.
